

The most important part of the website would be getting people excited about long boarding. One way I would like to do that is through custom board designs and individualized accessories. If people make something their own they will be much more excited to get out and show people what they made. Having several board layouts and designs that can be placed on any of them would be great. Also being able to place designs on the wheels & other accessories would add to the feeling of having something that is your own and that would help people to enjoy having a custom long board. Long boarding is a fairly tight community.

Boards

1) Longboards

Under this tab there will be several complete boards that are ready to go for people not interested in the customization option. Will include complete boards as well as just decks. This is a great option for people buying the longboards as a gift. All of this content will have to be created in the future. As I don't currently have any designs for them but have lots of ideas.

2) Custom boards

This is the tab that will be for the customization of a board. You will first pick the board layout, and then it will pull up a list of graphics that can be added to the board. And finally will give a couple options for grip tape. These boards can be bought with or without the other hardware. Most of the graphics will be focused around something in American and other free nation's history.

7) Skateboards

I may also include this as part of my content, I did have a skate board company called hostage board co. that I sold but may be able to use some of their boards on my page, I just need to contact them. I'm not sure if I want to include skateboards on my site though.

Accessories

3) Trucks & Hardware

List of available trucks & hardware from a sister company, Frankenstein Hardware, which I will also have to create some content for since it doesn't exist yet.

4) Wheels

There will be a couple different sizes of wheels as well as colors and hardness. These wheels will either come ready to go or you can customize the writing on them if you would like.

5) Clothing

We will sell hoodies, t-shirts, hats, and bags/backpacks

6) Accessories

We will have helmets, pads, and gloves, as well as tools and stickers and other misc. things in this section

About us

8) About us

We are Liberty Long Boards. This small board manufacturing shop opened up in 2017 in the small town of St. Anthony Idaho. With a lot of time on our hands we decided to do something new. We love the feeling of the wind as you speed down a hill, but there is also nothing better than going on a leisurely and winding ride. The problem we saw was that, although there are tons of awesome board designs, there was not a easy way to customize your board, we set out to change that. Through trial and error we created some new board layouts and also many new graphics to place on the bottom of boards.

9) How It Works

At Liberty Long Boards we are here to create awesome boards and accessories and to help you create something that is different than anything other people have. We have great new designs to put on boards and original board layouts, you get to choose which board you choose and then choose which design you would like on the bottom. Along with an individualized board you can also get wheels that are the size, hardness, and color you want with a custom graphic or writing on the side. With all of the possible combinations the final products are exactly what you would like.
